

TRANSPORT ECONOMIC UNIT

what we do

The area of Transport is strategic for all economic activities and its performance influences the competition of the Portuguese business fabric.

In the last decade, we have witnessed an increase in the intensity of the activity of transport, which corresponded to an equally intense political agenda.

The sector is facing some problems, such as the current economic context, fuel costs, the excess of operators and labour shortages, pressure on prices, lack of activity regulation and challenges such as intermodal transport, e-commerce, technology, and environmental concerns, among others.

We know that the operators of the sector need integrated, cross-sectional and specialised consulting, which is why we have created the TRANSPORT ECONOMIC UNIT.

PRA, through the Transport Economic Unit, ensures that the Transporting/Forwarding client has a smooth and permanent response from all PRA departments, through the heart of this transport unit, based on the know-how of the business.
